EXPLANATORY NOTES

These statistics are estimated from sample surveys. They are subject to sampling variability as well as nonsampling error including bias and variance from response, nonreporting, and undercoverage. Estimated average relative standard errors of the preliminary data are shown in the tables. Whenever a statement such as “2.5 percent ($\pm 3.2\%$) above” appears in the text, this indicates the range (-0.7 to +5.7 percent) in which the actual percent change is likely to have occurred. All ranges given for percent changes are 90-percent confidence intervals and account only for sampling variability. If a range does not contain zero, the change is statistically significant. If it does contain zero, the change is not statistically significant; that is, it is uncertain whether there was an increase or decrease. The same policies apply to the confidence intervals for percent changes shown in the tables. Changes in seasonally adjusted statistics often show irregular movement. It takes 3 months to establish a trend for new houses sold. Preliminary new home sales figures are subject to revision due to the survey methodology and definitions used. The survey is primarily based on a sample of houses selected from building permits. Since a “sale” is defined as a deposit taken or sales agreement signed, this can occur prior to a permit being issued. An estimate of these prior sales is included in the sales figure. On average, the preliminary seasonally adjusted estimate of total sales is revised about 2.7 percent. Changes in sales price data reflect changes in the distribution of houses by region, size, etc., as well as changes in the prices of houses with identical characteristics. Explanations of confidence intervals and sampling variability can be found on our website.

The Census Bureau has reviewed SOC monthly and quarterly tables to ensure appropriate access, use, and disclosure avoidance protection of the confidential source data (Disclosure Review Board (DRB) approval number: CBDRB-FY25-0286).

* The 90 percent confidence interval includes zero. In such cases, there is insufficient statistical evidence to conclude that the actual change is different from zero.

NASS Southern Plains Region announces 2024 Supervisor of the Year

AUSTIN, TEXAS – November 21, 2024 – USDA's National Agricultural Statistics Service (NASS) Southern Plains Region named Sharon Vaughn the Supervisor of the Year for 2024. Vaughn received the award because of her exceptional dedication to the NASS mission of providing timely, accurate and useful statistics in service to U.S. agriculture.

"Without a doubt, Sharon Vaughn more than deserves the 2024 Supervisor of the Year for the Southern Plains Region," said Wilbert Hundl, Jr., regional director of the NASS Southern Plains Regional Field Office. "In all projects, from the complex to the urgent, Sharon Vaughn continually demonstrates excellence in teamwork, data collection, and strengthening respondent relations."

Vaughn began her career in agriculture 32 years ago as an enumerator in Oklahoma. Her success is driven by her commitment to excellence in managing NASDA Enumerators and mentoring fellow NASDA/NASS supervisors. Vaughn started with the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture (NASDA) as a NASS enumerator and worked to become a supervisor, partnering with agricultural producers to provide quality statistical data.

Vaughn leads a team of five who assist agricultural producers in Northeast and East Central Oklahoma with agricultural surveys conducted by NASS. She credits the producers she has contacted over the years with teaching her about agriculture.

An enumerator is a person trained to conduct interviews or make field counts and record the information gathered. NASDA and NASS partner to hire enumerators under a cooperative agreement to serve the United States, its agricultural producers, and rural communities.

Under the cooperative agreement, NASDA employs over 2,000 part-time enumerators who collect statistical data for NASS agricultural surveys. The cooperative agreement began in 1972. NASDA and NASS have operated this cooperative program continuously in all 50 states since 1978.

For more information on NASS surveys and reports, visit www.nass.usda.gov or call the NASS Southern Plains Regional Field Office at 1-800-626-3142.

Application for Automatic Extension of Time
To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return

Go to www.irs.gov/Form4868 for the latest information.

OMB No. 1545-0074

2025

There are three ways to request an automatic extension of time to file a U.S. individual income tax return.

1. You can pay all or part of your estimated income tax due and indicate that the payment is for an extension using your bank account; a digital wallet such as Click to Pay, PayPal, and Venmo; cash; or a credit or debit card. See How To Make a Payment, later, and www.irs.gov/Payments for more information.
2. You can file Form 4868 electronically by accessing IRS e-file using your tax software or by using a tax professional who uses e-file.
3. You can file a paper Form 4868 and enclose payment of your estimate of tax due (optional).

It's Convenient, Safe, and Secure

IRS e-file is the IRS's electronic filing program. You can get an automatic extension of time to file your tax return by filing Form 4868 electronically. You'll receive an electronic acknowledgment once you complete the transaction. Keep it with your records. Don't mail in Form 4868 if you file electronically, unless you're making a payment with a check or money order.

Complete Form 4868 to use as a worksheet. If you think you may owe tax when you file your return, you'll need to estimate your total tax liability and subtract how much you've already paid (lines 4, 5, and 6 below).

Several companies offer free e-filing of Form 4868 through the Free File Program. For more details, go to www.irs.gov/FreeFile.

Pay Electronically

You don't need to file Form 4868 if you make a payment using our electronic payment options. The IRS will automatically process an extension of time to file when you pay part or all of your estimated income tax electronically. You can pay online or by phone. See How To Make a Payment, later.

E-file Using Your Tax Software or Through a Tax Professional

Refer to your tax software package or tax preparer for ways to file electronically. Be sure to have a copy of your 2024 tax return—you'll be asked to provide information from the return for taxpayer verification. If you wish to make a payment, you should pay electronically (see How To Make a Payment, later).

File a Paper Form 4868

If you wish to file on paper instead of electronically, complete the Form 4868 below and mail it to the address shown under Where To File a Paper Form 4868, later.

For information on using a private delivery service, see Private Delivery Services, later.

Note: If you're a fiscal year taxpayer, you must file a paper Form 4868.

General Instructions

Purpose of Form

Use Form 4868 to apply for 6 more months (4 if "out of the country" (defined later under Taxpayers who are out of the country) and a U.S. citizen or resident) to file Form 1040, 1040-SR, 1040-NR, or 1040-SS.

Gift and generation-skipping transfer (GST) tax return (Form 709 or 709-NA). An extension of time to file your 2025 calendar year income tax return also extends the time to file Form 709 or 709-NA for 2025. However, it doesn't extend the time to pay any gift and GST tax you may owe for 2025. To make a payment of gift and GST tax, see Form 8892. If you don't pay the amount due by the due date for Form 709 or 709-NA, you'll owe interest and may also be charged penalties. If the donor died during 2025, see the instructions for Forms 709 or 709-NA, and 8892.

Qualifying for the Extension

To get the extra time, you must:

1. Properly estimate your 2025 tax liability using the information available to you,
2. Enter your total tax liability on line 4 of Form 4868, and
3. File Form 4868 by the due date of your return. If you were affected by a disaster, you may have additional time to file Form 4868. See www.irs.gov/DisasterRelief for more information.

Although you aren't required to make a payment of the tax you estimate as due, Form 4868 doesn't extend the time to pay taxes. If you don't pay the amount due by the due date, you'll owe interest. You may also be charged penalties. For more details, see Interest and Late Payment Penalty, later. Any remittance you make with your application for extension will be treated as a payment of tax.

You don't have to explain why you're asking for the extension. We'll contact you only if your request is denied.

Don't file Form 4868 if you want the IRS to figure your tax or you're under a court order to file your return by the due date.

When To File Form 4868

File Form 4868 by the due date of your Form 1040, 1040-SR, 1040-NR, or 1040-SS. For a 2025 calendar year return, this is April 15, 2026, for most people. Fiscal year taxpayers file Form 4868 by the due date of the fiscal year return. If you were affected by a disaster, you may have additional time to file Form 4868. See www.irs.gov/DisasterRelief for more information.

Taxpayers who are out of the country. If, on the due date of your return, you're out of the country (as defined below) and a U.S. citizen or resident, you're allowed 2 extra months to file your return and pay any amount due without requesting an extension. Interest will still be charged, however, on payments made after the due date, without regard to the extension. If you're out of the country and file a calendar year income tax return, you can pay the tax and file your return or this form by June 15, 2026. File this form and be sure to check the box on line 8 if you need an additional 4 months to file your return.

If you're out of the country and a U.S. citizen or resident, you may qualify for special tax treatment if you meet the bona fide residence or physical presence test. If you don't expect to meet either of those tests by the due date of your return, request an extension to a date after you expect to meet the tests by filing Form 2350, Application for Extension of Time To File U.S. Income Tax Return.

You're out of the country if:

- You live outside the United States and Puerto Rico and your main place of work is outside the United States and Puerto Rico, or
- You're in military or naval service on duty outside the United States and Puerto Rico.

If you qualify as being out of the country, you'll still be eligible for the extension even if you're physically present in the United States or Puerto Rico on the due date of the return.

For more information on extensions for taxpayers out of the country, see Pub. 54, Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens and Resident Aliens Abroad.

Form 1040-NR filers. If you can't file your return by the due date, you should file Form 4868. You must file Form 4868 by the due date of the return.

If you didn't receive wages as an employee subject to U.S. income tax withholding, and your return is due June 15, 2026, check the box on line 9.

For more information on extensions for nonresident filers, see Pub. 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens.

Total Time Allowed

Generally, we can't extend the due date of your return for more than 6 months (October 15, 2026, for most calendar year taxpayers). However, there may be an exception if you're living out of the country. See Pub. 54 for more information.

Filing Your Tax Return

You can file your tax return any time before the extension expires. Don't attach a copy of Form 4868 to your return.

Interest

You'll owe interest on any tax not paid by the due date of your return, even if you qualify for the 2-month extension because you were out of the country. The interest runs until you pay the tax. Even if you had a good reason for not paying on time, you will still owe interest.

Late Payment Penalty

The late payment penalty is usually $\frac{1}{2}$ of 1% of any tax (other than estimated tax) not paid by the due date of your return, which is April 15, 2026, for most people. It's charged for each month or part of a month the tax is unpaid. The maximum penalty is 25%.

The late payment penalty won't be charged if you can show reasonable cause for not paying on time. Attach a statement to your return fully explaining the reason. Don't attach the statement to Form 4868.

You're considered to have reasonable cause for the period covered by this automatic extension if both of the following requirements have been met.

1. At least 90% of the total tax on your 2025 return is paid on or before the due date of your return through withholding, estimated tax payments, or payments made with Form 4868.
2. The remaining balance is paid with your return.

Late Filing Penalty

A late filing penalty is usually charged if your return is filed after the due date (including extensions). The penalty is usually 5% of the amount due for each month or part of a month your return is late. The maximum penalty is 25%. If your return is more than 60 days late, the minimum penalty is $525 (adjusted for inflation) or the balance of the tax due on your return, whichever is smaller. You might not owe the penalty if you have a reasonable explanation for filing late. Attach a statement to your return fully explaining your reason for filing late. Don't attach the statement to Form 4868.

How To Claim Credit for Payment Made With This Form

When you file your 2025 return, include the amount of any payment you made with Form 4868 on the appropriate line of your tax return.

The instructions for the following line of your tax return will tell you how to report the payment.

- Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, Schedule 3, line 10.
- Form 1040-SS, Part I, line 9.

If you and your spouse each filed a separate Form 4868 but later file a joint return for 2025, enter the total paid with both Forms 4868 on the appropriate line of your joint return.

If you and your spouse jointly file Form 4868 but later file separate returns for 2025, you can enter the total amount paid with Form 4868 on either of your separate returns. Or you and your spouse can divide the payment in any agreed amounts.

Specific Instructions

How To Complete Form 4868

Part I—Identification

Enter your name(s) and address. If you plan to file a joint return, include both spouses' names in the order in which they will appear on the return.

If you want correspondence regarding this extension to be sent to you at an address other than your own, enter that address. If you want the correspondence sent to an agent acting for you, include the agent's name (as well as your own) and the agent's address.

If you changed your name after you filed your last return because of marriage, divorce, etc., be sure to report this to the Social Security Administration (SSA) before filing Form 4868. This prevents delays in processing your extension request.

If you changed your mailing address after you filed your last return, you should use Form 8822, Change of Address, to notify the IRS of the change. Showing a new address on Form 4868 won't update your record. You can download or order IRS forms at www.irs.gov/FormsPubs.

If you plan to file a joint return, enter on line 2 the social security number (SSN) that you'll show first on your return. Enter on line 3 the other SSN to be shown on the joint return. If you're filing Form 1040-NR as an estate or trust, enter your employer identification number (EIN) instead of an SSN on line 2. In the left margin, next to the EIN, write "estate" or "trust."

IRS individual taxpayer identification numbers (ITINs) for aliens.

If you're a nonresident or resident alien and you don't have and aren't eligible to get an SSN, you must apply for an ITIN. Although an ITIN isn't required to file Form 4868, you'll need one to file your income tax return. For details on how to apply for an ITIN, see Form W-7 and its instructions. If you already have an ITIN, enter it wherever an SSN is requested. If you don't have an ITIN, enter "ITIN TO BE REQUESTED" wherever an SSN is requested.

An ITIN is for tax use only. It doesn't entitle you to social security benefits or change your employment or immigration status under U.S. law.

Part II—Individual Income Tax

Rounding off to whole dollars. You can round off cents to whole dollars on Form 4868. If you do round to whole dollars, you must round all amounts. To round, drop amounts under 50 cents and increase amounts from 50 to 99 cents to the next dollar. For example, $1.39 becomes $1 and $2.50 becomes $3. If you have to add two or more amounts to figure the amount to enter on a line, include cents when adding the amounts and only round off the total.

Line 4—Estimate of Total Tax Liability for 2025

Enter on line 4 the total tax liability you expect to report on your 2025:

- Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 24; or
- Form 1040-SS, Part I, line 7.

If you expect this amount to be zero, enter -0-.

Make your estimate as accurate as you can with the information you have. If we later find that the estimate wasn't reasonable, the extension will be null and void.

Line 5—Estimate of Total Payments for 2025

Enter on line 5 the total payments you expect to report on your 2025:

- Form 1040, 1040-SR, or 1040-NR, line 33 (excluding Schedule 3, line 10); or
- Form 1040-SS, Part I, line 12 (excluding Part I, line 9).

Don't include on line 5 the amount you're paying with this Form 4868.

Line 6—Balance Due

Subtract line 5 from line 4. If line 5 is more than line 4, enter -0-.

Line 7—Amount You're Paying

If you find you can't pay the amount shown on line 6, you can still get the extension. But you should pay as much as you can to limit the amount of interest you'll owe. Also, you may be charged a late payment penalty on the unpaid tax from the due date of your return. See Late Payment Penalty, earlier.

Line 8—Out of the Country

If you're out of the country on the due date of your return, check the box on line 8. "Out of the country" is defined under Taxpayers who are out of the country, earlier.

Line 9—Form 1040-NR Filers

If you didn't receive wages subject to U.S. income tax withholding, and your return is due June 15, 2026, check the box on line 9.
