ACTION: Notice.

SUMMARY: The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA or the Agency) is providing notice of its approval of an application for test marketing exemption (TME) under the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA). EPA has designated this application as T-24-0001. The test marketing conditions are described in the TME application and in this document.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

I. Executive Summary

A. Does this action apply to me?

This action provides information directed to the public in general and to the chemical manufacturer that submitted to EPA the TME application designated T-24-0001.

B. What action is the Agency taking?

This document provides notice of EPA's approval of an application for test marketing exemption (TME) under the Toxic Substances Control Act (TSCA). EPA also provides information on its website about exemption applications reviewed under TSCA, including exemption applications received, the date of receipt, and the status and effective date of EPA's decision on its website at: <https://www.epa.gov/reviewing-new-chemicals-under-toxic-substances-control-act-tsca/exemptions-table>.

C. What is the Agency's authority for taking this action?

TSCA section 5(h)(1) authorizes EPA to exempt persons from premanufacture notification (PMN) requirements and permit them to manufacture (which includes import) new chemicals for test marketing purposes, if the Agency finds that the manufacture, processing, distribution in commerce, use, and disposal of the chemicals for test marketing purposes will not present any unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment, including an unreasonable risk to a potentially exposed or susceptible subpopulation identified by the Administrator for the specific conditions of use identified in the application. EPA's regulations implementing TSCA section 5(h)(1) are at 40 CFR 720.38.

TSCA section 5(h)(6) requires EPA to publish in the Federal Register notice of receipt of an application for a TME and of the disposition of the application. The implementing regulation (40 CFR 720.38(d)) requires EPA to publish a notice in the Federal Register explaining the reasons for approval or denial.

II. Summary of Test Marketing Exemption Application

- TME Application No.: T-24-0001.
- Date of Receipt: April 15, 2024.
- Notice of Receipt: May 21, 2024 (89 FR 44674; FRL-11683-04-OCSP).

- Applicant: Zschimmer & Schwarz.
- Chemical: Isomerized alkane derivs. (generic name).
- Use: Raw material in ester manufacturing, to be fully consumed.
- Production Volume: 50,000 kilograms per year.
- Number of Customers: None.
- Test Marketing Period: 365 days, commencing on first day of commercial manufacture.

III. EPA Approval of the Test Marketing Exemption

EPA approved the TME application designated as T-24-0001 on December 19, 2024. EPA determined that test marketing the new chemical substance, under the conditions set out in the TME application, will not present any unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment, including to a potentially exposed or susceptible subpopulation identified by the Administrator for the specific conditions of use identified in the application.

The test marketing period, production volume, number of customers, and use must not exceed specifications in the application. All other conditions and restrictions described in the application and in this document must also be met.

A. What restrictions apply to this TME?

EPA may impose restrictions considered appropriate by the Agency on test marketing activities and may modify or revoke this TME upon receipt of any information that indicates the test marketing activity may present an unreasonable risk of injury to health or the environment.

The following additional restrictions apply to this TME:

- A bill of lading accompanying each shipment must state that the use of the chemical is restricted to that approved in the TME.
- The applicant shall maintain the following records for 5 years after the date they are created and shall make them available for inspection or copying in accordance with TSCA section 11:
 - Records of the quantity of the TME chemical produced and the date of manufacture;

- Records of dates of the shipments to each customer and the quantities supplied in each shipment; and
- Copies of the bill of lading that accompanies each shipment of the TME chemical.

B. What was EPA's risk assessment for this TME?

EPA did not identify unreasonable risks to health or the environment for the test market chemical under the intended conditions of use described in the TME application. EPA estimated that the chemical has high environmental toxicity; however, the chemical substance will not be released to water. Additionally, EPA identified potential risks to workers, which are addressed by the personal protective equipment requirements in the Safety Data Sheet for the chemical substance. Therefore, the test market activities will not present any unreasonable risk of injury to human health or the environment, including an unreasonable risk to a potentially exposed or susceptible subpopulation identified by the Administrator for the specific conditions of use identified in the application.

C. Can EPA change its decision on this TME in the future?

The Agency reserves the right to rescind approval or modify the conditions and restrictions of an exemption upon the receipt or evaluation of any information, new or existing, that indicates the test marketing activities may present an unreasonable risk of injury to human health or the environment.

Authority: 15 U.S.C. 2601 et seq.

Dated: July 21, 2025.

Tyler Lloyd,

Acting Supervisor, New Chemicals Risk Management Branch 3, New Chemicals Division, Office of Pollution Prevention and Toxics.

High-Rise Apartment and Condominium Fire Safety

Fires in high-rise and condominium buildings are especially dangerous. Make sure you know where all the exit stairs are in your building. If you do have a fire in your building, here are steps you can take to stay safe.

Know how to escape in an emergency:

If you cannot get out of your apartment because of fire, smoke or if you have a disability:

STUFF wet towels or sheets around the door and vents to keep smoke out.

LEAVE your apartment. Close the door behind you.

CALL 911 and tell them where you are. It may take a while for the fire department to clear the building. Stay on the phone with the fire department to help them locate you.

PULL the fire alarm on your way out to notify the fire department and your neighbors.

OPEN a window slightly and place a bright cloth outside to signal your location. Close the window so the air does not pull smoke into your room.

USE the stairs to get out. Do not use the elevator unless directed by the fire department.

GO to your outside meeting place and stay there. Call the fire department. If someone is trapped in the building, let the fire department know.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

In interpreting changes in the statistics in this release, note that month-to-month changes in seasonally adjusted statistics often show movements which may be irregular. It may take 2 months to establish an underlying trend for total construction and as long as 8 months for specific categories of construction. The statistics in this release are estimated from several sources and surveys and are subject to sampling variability as well as nonsampling error including bias and variance from response, nonreporting, and undercoverage. Estimates of the standard errors are provided in Table 3. Whenever a statement such as "2.3 percent (± 3.1 percent) above" appears in the text, this indicates the range (-0.8 to +5.4 percent) in which the actual percentage change is likely to have occurred. All ranges given are 90 percent confidence intervals and account only for sampling variability. If a range does not contain zero, the change is statistically significant. If it does contain zero, the change is not statistically significant; that is, it is uncertain whether there was an increase or decrease. Statistics for the current month are preliminary estimates subject to revision in following months as additional data become available. The average absolute percent changes from preliminary estimate to first revision for the major seasonally adjusted components are as follows: total construction, 0.74 percent; private construction, 0.95 percent; and public construction, 0.68 percent.

Explanations of confidence intervals and sampling variability can be found on our website at <www.census.gov/construction/c30/meth.html>.

The Census Bureau has reviewed this data product to ensure appropriate access, use, and disclosure avoidance protection of the confidential source data (Disclosure Review Board (DRB) approval number: CBDRB-FY24-0336).
